Global iSOC with 11 locations worldwide

We operate as a single global iSOC from our 11 locations around the world, with a homogeneous platform and shared capabilities.

With a 10-year track record in cyber security, we know what it takes to provide the right security solutions that are designed to help businesses grow. With our own technology and integrated third-party security solutions, we're ideally positioned to support you as a partner that you can trust.

Why become a Telefónica Cyber Security & Cloud Tech Partner

We understand that your organization must meet customer demands for cyber security solutions with a comprehensive portfolio. And we know that choosing the right security partner is critical for success.

As a Telco, we understand the needs of our partners and can help guide you in implementing cyber security infrastructures that are tailored-made for your customers' needs.

Capture the Cyber Security opportunity and grow

Working together means that you can leverage our infrastructure, processes and professional experts, so that you can provide Managed Security Services to your SMB and Enterprise customers.

Benefit from a unique and comprehensive portfolio

We offer a complete portfolio that covers, in a holistic way, all the phases of security attacks. Our service portfolio reflects our capabilities in both professional and technological services.

Our offer includes consulting services that will allow your company to create a Cyber Security unit, build your own SOC or increase your portfolio with our intelligence capabilities and innovative network.

Be at the forefront of innovation

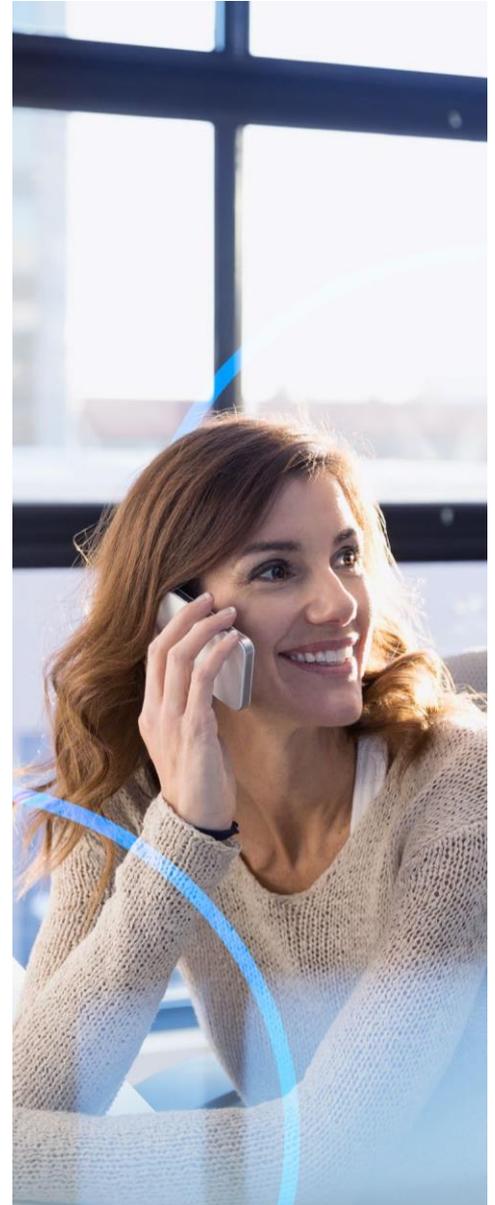

R&D and innovation is key in a fast-changing threat environment, and it is at the core of our security strategy.

- We operate 9 labs and innovation centers globally, developing our own product innovations and security tools that are used and tested at our SOCs.
- We have an active program to invest in the best cyber security and cloud start-ups to develop new business together and bring a competitive edge to our services.

Make use of our marketing resources

We will accompany you throughout your journey with your customers, offering support through training programs and a resources library, including case studies, guides, e-books, commercial presentations and event materials.

Expand your expertise with us

We look forward to working with you and your team to help you take your business to the next level.
